

I was born on December 21 st, 1971 in Porretta Terme in the province of Bologna, Italy. In this town, nestled in the beautiful Tuscan-Emilian Apennines, I live and work. Since 2012 I am happily married to Sara, my first supporter, but also severe critic, which, with her objective assessments, gives me a great boost in the grow and improve. Since childhood, photography has been my great passion: at the age of thirteen, I bought my first real camera, a Pentax K1000, with which I entered a wonderful world made of shutter speed, and aperture shots. Over the years, between beautiful satisfactions and disappointments, this passion has continued to evolve and with it also my camera kit. For several years I have been realizing all my photographs using a medium format Pentax 67II system, consisting of two camera bodies and a large group of targets, which allow me to address a wide variety of shooting conditions. The repeated hikes in the beautiful valleys of the Apennines surrounding my house have always been a source of great joy for me and a way to reconcile with the hustle and bustle of every day.
