

Telling

Telling Arts | 疊藝術

Telling Arts is an online platform dedicated to promoting talented emerging artists from Taiwan.

Through cooperation with different business entities and unique space, Telling Arts curates customised exhibitions and inspiring art events to create new dialogues between Taiwanese contemporary art scene and the the general public.

Featuring artists who express the dynamic characteristics of the world today, Telling Arts aims at redefining the idea of exhibition and brings art closer to people. We look forward to cooperating with different partners both in Taiwan and abroad to create innovative shows that tell stories through art.

Wu Chien-Yi (1987-)

Born in Taichung, Taiwan, Wu Chien-Yi specialises in collage art and mixed media installations. She graduated from Taipei National University of the Arts, majoring in Painting Section, and had received M.F.A degree from the Graduate Institute of Plastic Arts at Tainan University of the Arts.

Wu Chien-Yi's art is the result of a thinking process led by keen observation and numerous experiments. Having paper tape as the medium of expression, Chien-Yi reintroduces the familiar objects around us in a new light. Known as the winner of 2012 The Arising Artist Award of New Taipei City, Chien-Yi is also on the finalist of '2014 New Look Exhibition of Taiwan Fine Arts', the reputable 'Taipei Fine Arts Award' in 2011 as well as 2010 Kaohsiung Award.

She was also invited to exhibit in significant exhibitions, among which are the 2014 MT Expo and the 2012 Taiwan Biennial, and her artworks have been collected by The National Taiwan Museum of Fine Arts and Cultural Affairs Department of New Taipei City Government. Her innovative approach continues to bring forth the contrast between the real world and the one we know.

Wu Chien-Yi
Icon - Chinese brush painting loquat 2015
Japanese paper PE, acrylic plate, paint
60 x 60 cm

Wu Chien-Yi
Window View Series - Poetry of Chin Pao San 2015
Japanese paper PE, acrylic plate, paint
49 x 62 cm

We showcase emerging artists who are already telling the world with their art.

Hong Kong Asian Contemporary Art Show 2016
2016. 3. 24 - 3. 27
41F Room 07

www.tellingarts.com
facebook.com/tellingartspage instagram.com/tellingarts
teling@tellingarts.com