On one occasion, I noticed that I feel the beauty of the scene in my memory.

Although such a sight is not necessarily fastened intended.

Suddenly, it may emerge from the profound of accumulated huge memory.

The memory of the people, vague and brittle unlike the record, and is a fleeting presence.

But there is, fold the reality of beauty and the ideal of beauty.

I feel that there is conscious of the beauty that works unconsciously. Their sense of beauty that did not care-of.

I want to tell as the screen facing out there. Now I think so.
