introduction

Painter's note

If I couldn't control my feeling which comes in out of season without notice, so in the end, if it comes to me, how can I accept it, how can I leave it at the end?

This all process feels like penetrate though me. Indeed, the feeling likes penetrate me.

2015. 11

Feeling comes to without warning from nowhere. It is like a visitor who comes to me in the middle of the night, it is embarrassed, unexpected, sometimes shameful, however; I should welcome and accept it somehow, for it is unstoppable visitor.

Only if I feel emotion in its entirety, the feeling flow. so I feel them together like floating on the rove on the water,
I feel minutely, and slowly enjoy the feeling. The process of drift is long, and the most important time when I feel emotion for your nearest, I observe from a distance in a way,
I am with them all my heart, and prepare to leave at the same time.

Next, it leave me without robin slowly. Only if another feeling comes, I can feel more, and become rich on my own.
I have been through the process for a nice farewell. I become an open person and grow a little bit better by the repetition of this process.
