An inheritor of dough modeling, Liu Fang is also a contemporary artist. She has been passionate about art since childhood. Under the artistic influence of her ancestor and family heritage, she has studied the artistic techniques of traditional dough modeling from many national dough modeling masters. However, Liu Fang's art starts but is not limited to dough modeling. She has devoted to the study of traditional creation techniques, uses dough modeling, painting and sculpture as carrier, to carry out her exploration of contemporary languages, particularly to combine the two dimensional painting with three dimensional sculpture. In this way, the painting carries more sense of volume and heaviness. Her art is based on abstract art language to express the self in a contemporary way. The unique painting languages and forms are wildly praised. Meanwhile, her rich life experience and reflection in different regions make her works more thought-provoking and philosophical. Her artworks have been gradually valued and recognized by art experts, with paintings, installations and sculpture collected.
