

FENG YIXUAN

Having completed his master degree from one of the best art universities in China, artist Feng Yixuan has always known his inner voice in establishing a solid connection between personal experience and imaginary dreams. He recognises paintings as a method of communication, which could reflect on the current state of painter himself. Viewers can easily understand what is happening in his brain through appreciation of his works and relate to their own life experiences. His work has been listed in multiple art fairs in Jiangsu, China.